TOWN OFFICIAL PAPER.

VOLUME III. BERKELEY, CAL., MONDAY FEBRUARY 24, 1896. NUMBER 88

BADGE PRESENTATION

MRS. MARY C. DEAN, PAST COUNCILLOR OF

Berkeley Council No. 72 Presented With a Handsome Gold Badge of the Order.

Badge Presentation.

One of those pleasant occasions that frequently occur at meetings of lodges and secret societies took place on Friday evening last at the regular meeting of Berkeley Council No. 72, Order of Chosen Friends.

When the time came for the remarks to be made under the good of the order Mr. Frank Gimbel called upon Mrs. Mary C. Dean telling her that as an officer of the order he had something to say to her, admonishing her at the same time that his remarks would be pleasant.

Mr. Gimbel then in a neat and interesting speech presented Mrs. Dean on behalf of the members of the Council with a handsome 18 karat eight cornered gold badge, suspended from a half circle bar of gold. On the bar are inscribed the letters, "F.A.P." The star has all the different colors which are symbols of the order combined. On the back of the star is the inscription, "Presented by Berkeley Council No. 72, Past Councillor Mary C. Dean."

Mrs. Dean responded in a few words and requested that the members remain and partake of some of the good things that she had provided. The officers and members then preceeded to the banquet room where a feast of good things had been spread. All present fell to and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. After the cravings of the inner man had been appeased there were speeches and songs which caused time to fly unheeded.

Mrs. Dean will represent Berkeley Council in the Grand Lodge which convenes in San Francisco next month.

Keep Hounding Him.

Last evening Deputy Marshal Rawson arrested William Larscon for sleeping in a box car. Larscon is not a regular tramp, but is an unfortunate man.

In 1894 he was a fireman on the Union Pacific Railroad, having worked for that company for 11 years. He became a member of the American Railroad Union, and went out in the strike in July. When the strike was over he applied for reinstatement but this was refused him. He was given a letter of recommendation, however, and with this applied for work on different railroads.

No sooner did he present his letter of recommendation than he was informed that the company was not in need of hands, when he knew to the contrary. He says that all these letters that were given to old employees who were strikers have a joker in them which informs the railroad authorities not to employ the applicant. This consists of a certain water mark in the paper. Larscon says that the Railroad Company have hounded him all over the east and on the Pacific Coast, no matter whether he was working for a Railroad Company or in some other employment. After trying in vain to get employment on the railroads, Larscon says that he tried his hand at mining in Colorado. The Union Pacific Company soon found out what he was doing and caused him to lose his job there. He then went to Arizona and got a job painting, but they had kept track of him and he lost that job.

He then went to work in a mine near Prescott but he was soon routed out of there. In despair he set out for San Francisco, where he has relatives who are in business, and who employ a large number of hands, with the hope that he could get work there. Not having any money he had to resort to the mode of travel used by tramps, riding on brakebeams, behind baggage or in empty box cars.

In this way he reached West Berkeley, where tired and weary he climbed into a box car for a night's rest, before presenting himself to his uncle in San Francisco. While in the car asleep he was discovered by the officer and placed under arrest. After hearing his story the officer came to the conclusion that the man was not a tramp, but only a victim of circumstances so he made no charge against him, but gave him his breakfast and his fare to San Francisco where it is hoped the young man will find employment with his uncle.

GAZETTELETS.

Workmen were engaged today grading the Bailey tract on Addison street near the Narrow Guage track.

There will be numerous visitors to the University this evening to see the electric lights turned on for the first time.

Captain Gage has returned from a trip to Seattle and will be in his seat at the Board of Trustees meeting this evening.

Mrs. Dr. Addison gave the first picnic of the season to a number of Co-eds on the ocean beach near the Cliff House on Saturday last.

Col. John O. Hanscom, City editor of the GAZETTE is confined to his home by a severe attack of rheumatism. He hopes to be out in a few days however.

The new electric lights recently ordered by the Board of Trustees are being put in place very rapidly by the Electric Company.

A number of Berkeley people were in San Francisco on Saturday last enjoying the pleasure of shooting the chutes, and tripping the trolley.

Several new residences are being erected on Bancroft way east of Ellsworth street, and contracts are let for a number of others in the same neighborhood.

The Board of Trustees will meet the evening in regular session. Considerable important business will be transacted and no doubt many of our citizens will be present to watch the proceedings.

There were numerous visitors to Berkeley yesterday from Oakland and San Francisco, and they all went home laden with wild flowers, which are now growing in profusion in the neighborhood of Grizzly Peak.

W. J. Schmidt having received the contract for filling in the bulkhead at the foot of Bancroft way, had men and teams at work today fulfilling his contract. He is grading off the site whereon the electric light works will be built, and is using the dirt for filling in the bulkhead.

The people of West Berkeley are determined to have a wharf and in a few days a petition will be circulated among the residents for signatures. This petition will ask the Board of Trustees to call an election whereby the people can vote for bonds to the extent of $40,000, the money to be used in building a wharf.

This evening, for the first time since its erection, the State University library will be lighted. Workmen have been busy during the past week wiring the building. By this evening they expect to have the work completed so that the electric current can be turned on in the new mechanics' building from which will be furnished the power that is to illuminate the library and University grounds.

Berkeley's bond election resulted in the defeat of bonds. A majority of the voters were in favor of them, but the necessary two-thirds' vote was not there. Instead of pushing forward Berkeley has by this election taken a stand that will retard progress for a long time. The efforts of the election will not be noticeable at once, but in a comparatively short time they will be felt. At this time the school facilities of the place are inadequate and with the advantage of the State University being located there its lower schools ought to be of a high order and sufficiently numerous to accommodate all the children who may wish to attend. In the near future the people will be able to see clearly that a mistake was made when the bonds were defeated and then, realizing that the bonds are necessary to the proper development of the place, will doubtless have another election and the result will be different.—Hayward Review.

COIN IN THE SACK.

MRS. WILMORE ARRESTED AS AN ACCESSORY

Harry Miller Again Arrested as Insane—Other Local News Items.

Coin Was In The Sack.

The police express a determination to prosecute Mrs. Willmore as an accessory to the crimes of her son, Bert, and Abe Majors. They are firm in their belief that she was the instigator of the burglaries.

Majors says positively that Mrs. Willmore knew of every burglary. Both he and Bert Willmore discussed their acts, what they had done and what they expected to do, in Mrs. Willmore's presence. Mrs. Willmore often participated in their conversations, though the boy could not say that she actually advised any of the crimes. He is sure, however, that she knew of them all, and that she never uttered a word of protest.

Majors supplied a complete list of the amounts of money that had been obtained in the various raids, and aside from the $65 obtained on the night that the boys were captured it did not amount to $175. The money was put into a sack that hung behind a picture in the Willmore house, and it was used when it was wanted for household expenses. Mrs. Willmore, according to Majors' story, knew all about this sack, and used money out of it, knowing where it came from.

He says the store of Mason, Bert Willmore's former employer was robbed because the Willmores had some trouble with Mason. Mrs. Willmore knew of this robbery and was pleased. They had robbed that store twice and were going to rob the Oakland store if they got the chance.

Mrs. Willmore still refuses to talk. She has employed W. H. O'Brien to defend her.

Mrs. Wagner, who has had trouble with Mrs. Willmore for years, is delighted at the arrest of Mrs. Willmore. "Mrs. Willmore is responsible for my boy's downfall," she said. "She has made them do this work, and when they make her a party to the crimes they are doing what is right. If she is punished it will only be justice."

J. A. Wagner is in jail for not supporting his children. Archie Majors is under the restraint of the police until he can tell his story in court. Abe Majors is in the County Jail with Bert Willmore for his burglaries. Mrs. Willmore is in the City Prison charged with burglary and Ina Willmore has been taken charge of by the police, who turned her over to Mrs. Prescott of the Humane Society. Mrs. Prescott will apply to the court tomorrow for the guardianship of Ina upon the ground that her mother is an insane woman.

Abe Majors is once more in the condemned cell in the County Jail, the cell occupied by his father before he was hanged.

Attacked His Attendant.

Harry Miller, who lived with his parents at 328 Boulevard Terrace was taken to the County Jail last night and booked as insane. Young Miller has been in a demented condition for a long time, having spent the past sixteen months at a sanitarium in Napa county. He had improved recently and was brought home, where he was in charge of an attendant.

Last night this attendant took Miller out for a walk, and at about 8:30 o'clock at Twelfth and Washington streets the demented man suddenly became violent and jumped on his attendant. A big crowd was attracted by the struggles of the two men and the attendant's cries for help, and the maniac was overpowered. It took four men to take him to the City Prison, where he was strapped and afterward taken to the County Jail.

Tuesday last Miller had a similar attack in front of the Postoffice, when he threw the attendant out of a buggy in which they were driving, and cut several bystanders with his whip. Miller is about 28 years of age.

If you want to vote at the coming election get registered at once.

County Clerk Frank Jordan has got almost one-half of the voters of Alameda county re-registered already.

Nowhere but in Berkeley can much beautiful weather be enjoyed as we are having at the present time.

The greater portion of the people of Berkeley celebrated Washington's birthday in Oakland or San Francisco, hence it was a very quiet day in Berkeley.

The American flag floated from many business houses and private residences in Berkeley on Saturday last in honor of Washington's birthday.

A teamster named Mulholland well known in West Berkeley had his leg broken by being thrown from his team on Thursday last.

It is hoped that something will be done by the Board of Trustees at their meeting this evening in the matter of opening Sixth street.

The Telegraph avenue line of electric cars has followed the plan of the Grove street line, and has erected small stations along the avenue.

Fred Wilkes has applied for a divorce from his wife on account of desertion. His wife is now employed as a teacher in the San Pablo avenue school.

The California poppy is now blooming profusely and the ladies are discarding the violets for this brighter hued flower for corsage boquets.

Professor Star Jordan of Stanford, who lectured in Berkeley on Friday evening last denies that he made any remarks detrimental to the United State Senators from California.

The Women's edition of the Oakland Enquirer was an excellent edition in so far as it referred to the aims and ideas of women but it had no merit as a newspaper.

The GAZETTE is having an individual telephone line put up in order that its patrons may get quick service, and that they will not be interrupted by other persons talking on the line.

The Contra Costa Water Company are preparing to lay water mains along San Pablo avenue, and from there down the different streets that run east and west.

Louis Gill, who was injured about a year ago at Stege station, has so far recovered from his injuries that he will take employment at the Powder works at Pinole on the first of the month.

A small house situated near the palatial mansion of Byron Waters of Berkeley, on Bunker Hill near San Bernardino, was destroyed by fire a few days since.

The increase of the GAZETTE'S circulation has been so great of late that we are now compelled to use a folding machine in order to get the papers around to the subscribers in reasonable time.

Slowly but surely the work of macadamizing Shattuck avenue is being performed. It is to be hoped that the work will be completed before we have another rain storm.

The street sprinklers are being used to lay the dust. This is the condition of affairs in Berkeley in February. In the eastern states they are wading up to their knees in snow and slush.

There was a great shooting tournament at Schuetzen park yesterday, the reports of the guns being heard in Berkeley from early morn until darkness overspread the land in the evening.

An ordinance respecting the adulteration of milk, cream, fish and vegetables appears in this issue, and it should be read very carefully by all engaged in the milk, butcher, fish or vegetable business in order to avoid trouble in the future.

The building which was recently occupied by Connie Newell as a saloon, which was burned down a few days ago is to be replaced by a more substantial structure. It will be fitted up and again run as a saloon by Mr Newell.

There were quite a number of weddings in Berkeley on Saturday evening last. This is leap year and if the marriages continue as numerous during the rest of the year as they have been during the past two months there will be fewer old maids in Berkeley in 1897.

WATER RATES FIXED.

BY THE TOWN BOARD OF TRUSTEES.

Cheaper Water in Some Instances The Fire Service is Raised.

Water Rates Fixed.

The Berkeley Board of Trustees as a committee of the whole Saturday evening, concluded its consideration of the water rates for the next year and agreed upon a schedule which will be reported to the Board for adoption this evening. All the members were present and an interesting discussion took place upon the parts that will differ from the ordinance now in force.

This year's ordinance was read, section by section. No material changes were made until the meter rates were reached when the debate became lively enough. The outcome was that the rates were fixed as follows: For street sprinkling purposes 20 cents per 1000 gallons; for domestic use when the consumption is less than 5000 gallons per month, 40 cents per 1000 gallons; where the consumption is over 5000 per month, 35 cents per 1000 gallons. It is optional on the part of the consumer to be supplied by meter the minimum charge being fixed at $18 per year.

The rate for hydrants for fire service is raised from 50 cents per month to $2, the water company to supply and keep in repair such hydrants as may be ordered by the town. In case of suspicion of inaccuracy of a meter, provisions is made for a test, the cost to be paid by the consumer unless the error is found to be greater than 5 per cent against him.

In case the company is unable to supply water for irrigating purposes, for each month, failure the charge for two months' service for that purpose shall be deducted. The rates for municipal purposes were raised with the understanding that the water company would begin and continue to replace its small mains with pipes large enough to provide suitable flow and pressure for fire protection.

Double Wedding.

On Saturday evening last two young business men of West Berkeley were united in matriage at the residence of Mrs. K. Zwald, the mother of one of the brides in Alameda.

The wedding was private none but members of the family being present.

The contracting parties were Mr. W. H. Abel of West Berkeley and Miss K. Zwald of Alameda and Mr. C. Haof and Miss H. Abel of West Berkeley.

The young couples received congratulations until 11 o'clock when they all sat down to an elegant wedding supper, after which they returned to the cosy little homes that had been provided by their husbands in West Berkeley where they have settled down to love and housekeeping.

Menzenmeyer's Hearing.

The hearing of Albert Menzenmeyer on the charge of assault with intent to murder J. K. Perkins at Lorin Christmas eve, will be held tomorrow morning before Justice of the Peace Henry Morris. It is expected that there will be a contest as to the jurisdiction of the Court. Menzenmeyer's crime was committed at Lorin, which is in Oakland township, and it is said that his Attorney, A. A. Moore, will claim that his hearing should have been before the Justice in that township.

The people of Berkeley will soon have another bond election, and as the register has been cancelled it will be necesaary for all to reregister before they can vote. Those desiring to be registered can be regestered at the GAZETTE office, at Paine & Dickleson's office, at the Free Reading room at Justice James Courtroom by J. W. Striker or by George Sheldon at Dwight way. Don't loose any time but get your name on the Great Register at once and prevent accidents.

Make your preparations for a visit from the assessor on and after March first, as on that day he will commence to find out how much you are worth.

Forester's Ball.

On Saturday evening last Court Ocean View, A. O. F., of West Berkeley, gave a grand ball at Sisterna Hall in honor of Washington's birthday.

The hall had been tastefully decorated with flowers, evergreens and flags and presented a very handsome appearance.

At about 8:30 the orchestra struck up the grand march, and in a few minutes the youth and beauty of West Berkeley were marching about the hall forming figures and squares that were made more beautiful by the handsome costumes of the ladies.

After the grand march a program of several dances was indulged in until midnight, when an intermission of one hour was had for supper.

After all had supplied the inner man dancing was again resumed and was kept up until the "Rosy morn stood tiptoe upon the misty mountain tops."

All who attended had a most enjoyable time and will look forward with pleasure to the next dance given by the Foresters.

In this connection it would be well to state that a few weeks ago the Foresters gave a free entertainment to their friends and the hall was crowded. This time they charged an admission and many of those who attended the free entertainment were conspicuous by their absence.

Saw Spooks.

Yesterday afternoon the inmates of the Chinese washhouse on Addison street had been enjoying an extra pipe of opium and a much larger quantity of Chinese gin than usual, and were at peace with themselves and all the world, when suddenly and without any warning evil spirits appeared before them.

The terrified Chinese shrieked and jabbered for sometime but the ghosts like that of Banquo would not down. Finally one Chinaman with a little more presence of mind than the others uncovered a Chinese Josh, before whom all the Chinese prostrated themselves. This did not have the desired effect for several more spooks made their appearance.

It was not until a box of firecrackers had been ignited and shot off did the ghosts disappear.

They would not have disappeared then had not the shooting off of the firecrackers attracted the attention of a number of small boys who were sending the rays of the sun into the washhouse with the aid of a mirror, from University avenue the reflection struck another mirror in the wash house, and caused several shadows to dance up and down on the floor, and they, were taken by the Chinese for ghosts much to the delight of the mischievious small boy.

Mr. Renas of the firm of Ramos & Renas, the well known coal dealer of West Berkeley has a ranch in the foothill near Temescal. A few days ago while passing down one of the canyons he came across a ledge of what appeared to be a black rock, but which upon examination proved to be coal. He also found indications of oil in the bed of the canyon. The ledge was recently uncovered by the late storms and now show up quite prominent.

There were numerous vacant seats at the MacDonough Theater in Oakland on Saturday night on the occasion of Paderewski's piano recital. Oakland dollars were not plentiful enough to pay from $2 to $5 a seat to hear this long haired Pole fool with a piano for an hour.

On Thursday next the University students will drop Minto for the pick, shovel and wheelbarrow. The boys know that the eyes of the State are upon them, and that there will be innumerable snap shots taken at them and they will prove equal to the occasion and do first class work and plenty of it even if they are sure for a week afterwards.

If you are in need of wall paper, paint, oils or glass you do not have to go into Oakland or over to San Francisco to procure the same for you can just as cheap of Erickson & Co. on San Pablo avenue between Addison street and University avenue. Besides carrying a stock of paints, oils, etc., they do interior decorating, painting, paper hanging, whitening and tinting. 18 1m

ARE LOSING HOPE.

THE CUBAN INSURGENTS BECOMING DISCOURAGED.

President Cleveland off on Another Outing Instead of Attending to His Duties.

Special dispatches to the GAZETTE.

Insurgents Losing Courage.

Washington, Feb. 24.—The Spanish Minister has received the following advices from Havana:

Bands of insurgents are marauding to the north of Tarauco with the intention of diverting the attention of the troops and to permit Gomez and Maceo to cross to Matanzas and enter the Cienaga de Sapata. The roads to it are guarded by the commands of Echague and Francis. One of the insurgent bands entered the town of San Antonio del Rio Blanco and was defeated by the Guadalaja battalion.

The encounter took place at the Oviedo plantation. The insurgents' loss was three killed, four prisoners, eight horses and arms and ammunition. They carried away several wounded. Colonel Segnara has captured the rebel chief Enliseto between Catalina and Guiuas.

A small column organized by the military commander of Marina with volunteers and firemen defeated the bands Villa Neuva and Baldouero, killing twenty and capturing fifteen prisoners and ten horses, with saddles and a few machetes. Reports are to the effect that the insurgents carried away many wounded.

Generals Aldecoa and Linares and Colonel Hernandez met in the night when passing the river Opoedagua, the band of Maceo retreating after having been defeated by Colonel Hernandez. The engagement lasted an hour and six of the enemy's men were killed. The Government troops arrived at Catalina late in the night with two men wounded.

Knowing by the report of a spy that the enemy was at the plantation Elegato, Colonel Fort went to meet them.

About two and a half miles from the plantation strong groups of the enemy began firing with the intention of deceiving the Government troops, but Colonel Fort pursued his way to the plantation, and was met by the fire of the enemy, who were intrenched in a strong position formed in half circles, according to their usual tactics. The troops dislodged them from the sides by the fire of the artillery, the center being taken by the infantry. The enemy made a final stand in the ruins of the hut, but were stormed by the troops of the Pionario regiment two companies of the Verangua battalion.

The losses of the enemy were ten killed, left on the field and about thirty were carried away and many wounded. The bands engaged by the Government columns were those of Maceo, Frayas, Perras, Cardenas, and Calmuga, united with a force from 4000 to 5000 men.

The Government casualities were one captain and six soldiers dangerously wounded and six others more or less wounded.

A civilian, carried by force to serve as a gvide, said when he returned that the insurgents are disabled and discouraged in consequence of the constant prosecution, that they carried away more 200 wounded, and rendered full justice to the courage of the troops. The guide said they are engaged in a running match.

The President's Outing.

Quantico, Va., Feb. 24.—The tender Maple with President, Cleveland and party, arrived off Quantico about 3:20 this morning.

The President was accompanied by Commodore Lamberton, Dr. Riley and Attorney General Harmon.

The party came down on the invitation of Colonel Withers Walter to enjoy duck shooting from his blinds. Colonel Rives, U. S. A., went on board the President's boat soon after she anchored.

The President will probably have a good week's duck shooting, as the ice is broken and the ducks are quite plentiful on the feeding grounds, which have been covered with ice for a week.

DISRUPTED.

The pleasant relations which have heretofore existed in the Salvation Army in all its branches have become strained, and it now looks as though the army would become disrupted. The American branch will certainly secede from the English branch and this is liable to cause trouble in all the different branches, as it will be in army tactics a revolution.

Far seeing men have predicted that this would come, and many thought much sooner than it has. The principles of the army are all right and the soldiers have worked faithfully for the cause. During all of this time however the army has been getting very wealthy. It has a large bank account and has become the owner of valuable real estate. All of this money and property is in the name of different members of the Booth family and in the eyes of the law is their property. This fact alone has caused considerable dissatisfaction in the army for no man is infallible nor above the temptations that a vast amount of wealth offers.

When B. Booth, the commander of the American division was called upon to give up the American command, the first revolt in the army was chronicled, and the pressure was so strong that Mr. Booth refused and he was in consequence superceded by his cousin of Canada. This has greatly displeased the American contingent and it is probable that Mr. Booth will now reorganize the American Army on new lines, but in order to do so he will be compelled to incorporate the army under the laws of the United States and turn all the army property to the incorporation.

The Army has done a great deal of good in this country since its organization and it is too bad that this trouble should arise as it will not be of the greatest benefit to the army. It is hoped, however, that all the evil that has occurred will soon be overcome and that the battle against sin will be kept up with the usual vigor.

THE WATER RATES.

The Board of Trustees of Berkeley have been meeting from time to time as a Committee of the Whole, and have been wrestling with the question of fixing the water rates for the ensuing year. On Saturday evening last they met again and fixed upon the rates. They have raised the rates for street sprinkling from 10 cents to 20 cents per 1000 gallons. This is nothing but just as the rate of 10 cents was ridiculously low and was not even cost price to the Water Company without counting interest on the plant. The rates for hydrants were raised from 50 cents per month to $2.50 per month. This is another wise move as it will save considerable money to the taxpayers. Heretofore the town has purchased its own hydrants at a cost of from $60 to $75, and have then paid 50 cents per month for the privilege of using them in case of fire. Now this will be changed. In the future the Board will order hydrants put in wherever necessary, and the water companies will have to put them in at their own expense, and keep them in repair. For this they will receive the sum of $2.50 per month, which is only a fair rate of interest upon the money invested, and the use of the water in case of fire.

The rates for domestic use have been made extremely low, and the Water Companies will be compelled to put in meters wherever they are required so that the consumer can ascertain just how much water he uses, and will then know just how much he has got to pay for. In case the Water Companies cannot furnish water enough for irrigation of lawns and gardens, then they will receive nothing for the house supply.

We consider that the Trustees as a Committee of the Whole have sifted this matter of fixing water rates down to a fine point and have succeeded admirably in hitting a fair rate for both the consumer and the Water Companies. This water question is one that tys the souls of every Board of Trustees in the State, and no matter how hard they try to make a fair rate, one that will do justice to both the consumer and the Water Company, they are sure to be condemned by some people. It is with pleasure then that the GAZETTE announces, that it believes that the Berkeley Board of Trustees have solved the problem here to the entire satisfaction of all concerned.

SOMETHING CROOKED.

That President Cleveland is an autocrat there can be no doubt. He seems to think that he is the absolute ruler of this country and in many cases he is making the people of the United States acknowledge the fact, especially in the matter of the bond issue.

W. M. Graves of New York recently bid $1,153,391 for $4,500,000 worth of bonds and was ready to pay the cash for them at the subtreasury in New York. Secretary Carlisle refused to sell them to him, however, but sold them to the Morgan syndicate at a loss of $200,000 to the government. A resolution has now been introduced in Congress demanding an investigation of the affair.

No one will believe that Mr. Carlisle will go unrewarded for his generosity to the Morgan syndicate. That syndicate believes in paying those who do their dirty work well, and they will look after Mr. Carlsle's interests well. How many he will have to divide with is not known, but he will not retire from the President's cabinet a poor man. Mr. Cleveland when he was first elected President was comparatively a poor man, now he is worth several millions of dollars. He did not make it from his law practice during the four years he was out of office. The public can guess, however, that it was not made honestly. Maybe, however, when he retires from office next year, he will write a book and tell the people how he managed it. All great men now write books to keep themselves in cigar money, and the public which likes to be humbugged, buy them. In the meantime men of brains who write books are starving for the reason that publishers will not buy their manuscript.

A MAN FOR AN EMERGENCY.

Surprising Experience In a Car of a Boy Who Was Headstrong.

A poorly dressed woman with a boy about 9 years old boarded one of the Union Trolley company's cars in White Plains avenue recently. There was no vacant seat, and she grabbed a strap in front of a young man and prepared to hang on. The young man got up and tipped his hat to her. Quick as a flash the boy dropped her hand and leaped into the seat on his knees, taking care to wipe his muddy feet on the clothing of the passengers on either side. The young man looked first at the woman, for whom he intended the seat, and then at the boy. The woman shook her head and said:

"Poor boy! I guess he's tired. He can have it, sir."

The young man looked from one to the other again. He shifted about uneasily for a moment. The other passengers in the car giggled. That decided him. Holding to a strap with one hand, he reached for the boy with the other and got him by the nape of the neck. He lifted him clear of the seat and held him dangling and kicking in the air. The woman was about to protest. Then she thought better of it and sat down in the vacant seat.

"Madam," said the young man, throwing the boy at her, "here is your boy."

"Thank you, sir," she said. "He is a bit headstrong, it's true, sir."

The boy looked astonished. He whimpered a little. The woman patted him on the head, and there wasn't a peep heard from him from that time until the Harlem bridge was reached and the crowd got out.—New York Sun.

MODERN CANDLES.

THEY ARE GREAT IMPROVEMENTS OVER THOSE OF FORTY YEARS AGO.

The Unit of Light Has Been of Inestimable Service to Mankind—It Is a Mistake to Think That Gas and Electricity Have Entirely Snuffed Out the Candle.

Now that candles have again come into use as a means for lighting reception rooms where gas is considered too hot and electric lights too glaring, comparisons are being made with the candles of today and those of the long ago. He is not a very old man who still remembers the malodorous "tallow dip," six to the pound, that he bought at the grocery or perhaps may have helped to make in a domestic way on Saturdays when at home from school.

It is but a few years since candle molds were a very important and necessary part of every household, and yet so completely are they now banished to the limbo of forgotten and useless things that there must be thousands of young people to whom a pair of snuffers and a candle mold would prove undoubted curiosities. They were not very pleasant to the nostrils, those old fashioned tallow candles, their illuminating power was not good, and their need of constant snuffing was indispensable, and though the fingers were the handiest of snuffers one was very apt to get badly smudged in the course of an evening.

Yet the world stumbled along with no better light than that for 18 centuries and accomplished considerable things on the way. Great scholars were made by saved up candle ends, great volumes written and the world enlightened, even if the writers and teachers groped a great deal.

The great performances of Garrick and Siddons were given behind footlights of tallow candles, and the candle snuffer was one of the most important of supers in the theater of the olden time. "Without a candle snuffer," says Goldsmith of a play he had seen, "the piece would lose half its embellishments."

In those days "early to bed and early to rise" was a maxim that had much more significance, for it was necessary to get more out of daylight than in this era of gas and electricity. Candles have always occupied an important place in public worship. In the old-times Christmas was called the Feast of Lights, because many candles were used at the feast, while the custom of setting a candle at the head of a dead person after being "laid out" is still a practice.

But if people think that candles are not much used nowadays they are mistaken. There are still several candle manufactories in New York. A very large export business is done here, chiefly to the West Indies and Central America. In the United States sales are principally in the western states. The mining region takes large quantities, for no light but candles is used in gold and silver mining.

Candles are also used for church purposes, at country hotels, and to some extent in families. Many of the people of the east side, newly come to the country, use candles in preference to oil, being accustomed to candles and afraid of the oil. Although it is not a great while before they are won over to the use of oil, there are always thousands of others who, for the first few months of their being here, shun oil as they would a deadly poison.

No branch of industry has undergone the change that candle making has in the last 30 years. Formerly it was merely a mechanical operation. Anybody could make candles and almost everybody did.

Now it is a scientific industry, bringing to its aid the resources of chemistry. Formerly a candle was a greasy, noisome thing that one usually handled with disgust; now it is artistic and refined and can be handled without the least offense. The wick is so prepared that the combustion is complete, and snuffers have long been banished. An ancient candle maker could only work with materials already provided by nature, so that he had to use fats, with all their impurities.

The modern candle maker by chemical process removes impurities, which leaves him nothing but the hard and white fat for his candles. Fat changed by this process is called stearine, and from this material are made the star and stearic wax candles. These are extremely hard and are sometimes called adamantine, do not grease the hands and give a soft and pleasing light. Spermaceti and wax candles are also made.

The candle has ever remained the unit of light. Sometimes you hear of a light, say gas, being of 25 candle power. The standard is a spermaceti candle burning at the rate of 120 grains of sperm per hour. There are candles, too, which are made of paraffin, but no candles are used so extensively as the star or stearine.

The great improvement in the manufacture of candles dates from the investigations of the French chemist, M. Chevreul. He discovered that the fat and the result of the process was two valuable products—stearine and glycerin. Those who have used the candles of the past can scarcely realize that candles can now be shipped to warm climates. In former days a merchant would as soon have thought of exporting skates or snowshoes to Havana as a cargo of tallow candles. They would have all melted into an indistinguishable mass going across the gulf of Mexico. But such candles as are made now can be used in the hottest climate in the world.

Candles, however, are not a cheap light. A box of them will cost as much as a barrel of oil, and yet the barrel of oil contains nearly 80 times the illuminating power of the box of candles. The only great advantage of the candle is its safety.

Oil and gas are much cheaper. Where candles are used danger from fire is reduced to the lowest.—New York World.
